

This is a topographic map of a region in Italy, specifically around the town of Salonicco. The map features a grid overlay and contour lines indicating elevation. A large, irregular area of land is highlighted in pink, covering the central and upper portions of the map. This pink area appears to be a specific land use or ownership zone. The town of Salonicco is located in the lower right, and the town of Follonica is visible in the lower left. The map also shows various roads, including a major road running vertically on the right side, and several smaller roads and paths. The terrain is hilly, with numerous contour lines and peaks. The pink area follows the contours of the hills, suggesting it might be a protected area or a specific land management zone.

Follonica, Marzo 2003 Scala 1:10.000